AMERICAN SUNDAY SCHOOL UNION.

The Union has been in existence for thirty-one years. Its field is the country. It furnishes missionaries and books to the needy and the destitute, and organizes sabbath schools. It has employed during the year 324 missionaries is twenty four different States. It has organized 5,903 schools, with 41,519 teachers and 255,709 scholars Steme 72,000 scholars attend Sunday schools throughout the cauntry. The society have expended 372,727 04. The receipts have amounted to $248,604 75—$55,198 of which have been donations, and $5,230 40 in legacies. The fund on hand is very large.

MARSAGBURETTS SARBATH SCHOOL SOCIETY.

An abstract of the annual report was read. The business at the Depository was never so large as during the past year. Forty-one new books have been published. The whole number of books in the seciety's catalogue new amounts to 1,118, of which 800 are bound volumes. The Westers agency has been continued with good results, The expenditures of the society during the year have been $0.946, of which $3,588 were sent to the westers field. Books, Well Springs, &c., have been sent to 22 States and the British Provinces.

Res George Webple, Secretary of the Foreign De-parament, gave as account of the operations of the so-ty abroad. There are now 80 missionaries in the reggt field. Since the last annual report, sixten have the foreign ports. A number of stations are lo-

GHILDREN'S MISSION.

Mr. Green, the treasurer, read his annual repert, showing the receipts, including the balance from old account, to have been $1,044 82. After deducing the expenses, the treasury was left in debt to the amount of $54 86. But he was happy to say that the mission had been relieved from all embarrassment, by the generous contribution of $100 from a party of children in Dracester, being the proceeds of a May fair. The secretary's report spoke encouragingly of the labors of the missionaries, and of the many children that have been reclaimed from the dens of infamy and poverty, and made to walk in the paths of virtue and christianity.

Castle Garden as an Emigrant Depot. SUPERIOR COURT. Before Hon. Judge Hoffman.

MAY 30 .- J. Phillips Phaniz vs. the Commission Emigration, the Mayor, &c., or New York.—Hon. Ogden Hoffman, en the part of the defendants, resumed, this morning, his argument, which he had commenced the previous afternoon. He spoke for several hours, and contended that the State having made it imperative upon them to designate some place for a swignary designate. them to designate some place for an emigrant depot, un-less they could select Castle Garden, it would be impos-sible for them to fulfil their duties, as there was no other place in New York or its vicinity applicable for the sible for them to fulfil their duties, as there was no other place in New York or its vicinity applicable for the purpose. If the court should decide to continue the injunction and refuse to allow the place to be so apprepriated, a very serious blow would be struck at the commercial presperity of this city, for the emigrants who are now accustomed to land in the port of New York, would, for want of a central depet or landing place, as required by the State authorities, be compelled to go elsewhere. He contended that the place was not only the sole remaining one but the very best that could have been selected, and that the precautions taken by the Commissioners, as exhibited in their answer, and the testimony of eminently practical physicians dispelled all ideas of danger from contaglous diseases in the event of emigrants being landed there. He dwelt at great length upon the conditions affixed to the grant by the State to the corporation of the Battery and Bowing Green, and contended that the Castle Garden, being beyond low water mark, was not affected by the acts of 1790 or of 1821, but was simply granted by the State, subject to no conditions, and restricted by no covenants as to its use for private purposes. Besides, the use to which the Commissioners proposed to apply it was eminently a public one. The plaintiff had contended that the assignment by Concklin of his term to the Commissioners was invalid, and that itse assignment to him by Alien, the lesses of the corporation, was equally defective, because certain covenants contained in their lesses had been violated. This did not affect the case, for the Commissioners, whether by a good title or defective title, or without any title whatever, were in possession when the injunction was applied for; the corporation had interposed no ebjection and had made no appearance here to oppose the action of the Commissioners, and taarefore they could not be opposed by persons in the capacity of the plaintiff, having no privity of centract, and whose own material rights a premises.

Hon. F. B. Cutting replied for the plaintiff, and the Court reserved its decision.

Decision in Admiralty of Appeal.
UNITED STATES CHOULT COURT.
Before Hon. Judge Nelson.
MAY 30.—Aaron G. Higgins vs. the United States Mail
Steamship Company.—This libel was filed in the court below to recover demurrage for the unreasonable detention of the ship Kanawha at the port of Havana. She was freighted by the respondents with coal, from New York to that port; and it is claimed that, according to the contract of affreightment, the vessel was to be detained not exceeding twelve running days in the discharge of her cargo, whereas she was, in fact, detained some twenty-seven days in addition. The bill of lading, signed by the master of the Kanawha—the only written contract between the parties—makes no mention of the contract between the parties—makes no mention of the number of days within which the coal should be discharged. It is in the usual form, and stipulates that it is "to be delivered in like good order and condition, at the aforesaid port of Havans, (dancers of the sea excepted.) unto Messrs. Drake & Co., or to their assigns, he er they paying freight, at $1 per ton, with five per cent primage, and average accustomed." The limitation as to the number of running days in the duscharge of the coal is sought to be made out by oral evidence; and we have before us the testimony of agents of the owners on the one side, and of the shippers on the other, directly in conflict on the subject. It is undoubtedly true that this instrument is open to explanation to a certain extent as between the original parties, to correct mistakes or imposition upon the master. So far as it partakes of the nature of a receipt it may be properly explanable, and is not conclusive. But we have seen no case that has gone the length of varying the contract by parol in respect to the matter in question. According to the construction of the bill of lacing, excluding interpolations by oral evidence, the delivery of the coal would be governad by the custom and usage of the delivery of eargoes of that description as the port of Havans. The oral evidence therefore, changes entirely the legal effect of the instrument as to the matter in question. Even were I more doubtful than I am as to the application of the rule excluding the paral evidence of the contract, the omission to insert it would lead me to inclune in favor of the testimony of the vitaess, who denies that any such contract was made. Whether made or not depends upon the evidence of the two parties who entered into the contract of shipment, and which, as we have said, is directly in conflict. We, therefore, lay out of the case the oral agreement set up by the libellant. Then, as to the delivery of the coal, the respondents were in possession of a particular docs or wharf at Havans, where all th number of days within which the coal should be disand which, as we have said, is directly in conflict. Wo, therefore, lay out of the case the oral agreement set up by the libellant. Then, as to the delivery of the coal, the respondents were in possession of a particular dock or wharf at Havans, where all the coal shipped for their line of steamers was landed; and we are inclined to think that the master of the Kanawha was right in supposing that he was bound to discharge his cargo at that place. Indeed, upon the evidence it would seem to have been the only place where his cargo could be discharged at that port, and being obliged to discharge it there, he was also neces sarily obliged to conform to the usage and practice that existed regulating the delivery, and which was, as but two vessels could discharge at a time, to want for his turn. Only one vessel was permitted to discharge her cargo before him over which he was entitled to preference. She was engaged sevan days in the delivery, and fer this delay he had a right to complain. The court below found the delay to be twenty-seven days, but that was founded upon the oral contract, which we have disregarded. An objection is taken to the jurisdiction of the court below, upon the greund that the breach of contract complained of is not the breach of a maritime contract. But this is a misapprehension. According to our interpretation of the contract of shipment, the respondents were bound to afford accommodation at their wharf to the Kanawha for the delivery of the coal, according to the usage and custom of vassels engaged in its shipment. This contract is a maritime contract, over which the court had jurisdiction, and it is for a breach of it upon which the ileel is founded. The refusal to permit the discharge of the cargo, according to the usage of the place, was as much a breach of the contract as a refusal to pay the freight, er to accept the cargo at all, where the bill of lading provided for accept the cargo at all, where the bill of lading provided for accept and the substantial them in conformity with this the seven days' detention, reference must be made to the clerk, to ascertain them in conformity with this opinion.

Max 31—Jacob Shurts vs. The Steamboot New Fork—This libel was filed by the owner of the barge fiero, which was sunk in a storm on the North River on the night of the 2d of August, 1854, near Yonkers, while in tow of the tug, New York. She was loaded with 213 tons of coal, and was stationed in the middle of the front tier of the tow, on the larboard side of the tug, which consisted of three boats. Several grounds are taken upon the proofs, which are voluminous in the case, in order to establish gross negligence on the part of the master of the tug, under the circumstances of the violence of the storm in which the boat was lost—such as that its position in the tow was an impreper one; that the tog was moving at too great speed at the time; that she should have come to an anchor, or detached the boat from the tug, so as to have prevented it from being drawn under and sumb. We have looked into this case with a view to the several grounds of complaint against the conduct of the tug, and agree with the Court below that neither of them are sustained by the proofs. On the contrary, the clear weight of the evidence is, that the sunking of the barge is attributable to the effect of the storm that prevailed, without the fault of the tug, or to the negligence of the master in not properly securing the forecastle hatch, in consequence of which it was forced open by the breaking of the water over it and letting it into her hold. This hatch, as described in the testimony, was covered with a box of combings rising from the teck, fitting tight, without any other fastening. The other two hatches were secured with hooks and staples, as this one should have been, or with bars properly fastened, which is better, and has since been adopted. The master of the barge, also, is not altogether free from blams, after the storm had been called to it by some of the hands of the tug, and affirm the decree.

United States Distri

United States District Court. Before Hon. Judge Ingersoll. May 30.—Charge of Stabbing on the High Seas.—John Honesen, one of the crew of the ship Santa Clara, was placed at the bar, charged with stabbing the mate of that vessel, on the 3d of April last, with a knife. The defence did not deny the actual stabbing, but set up as a justification that the injury was inflicted whilst the mate was assailing the prisoner with a belaying pin. The prisoner was found guilty, and the Court seatenced him to six months imprison ment in the State prison. Charge of Samogling.—The United States vs. Chreat d. Co.—This was a charge against the defendants for smuggling a quantity of diamonds. It appears that the Custom House officers having received information, entered the premises of the defendants, and on opening a safe discovered a quantity of diamonds, which they allege had not paid justy on coming into this port. The defendants deny the charge of amuggling. It was unfarstood that $10,000 worth of the property belonged to the late Mad Sontag, and was left with the defendants. The case is still on.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

BATURDAY, June 2—6 P. M.

There was rather a dull market at the first board to day. The excitement in Reading has partially subsided. All the leading stocks were quiet, but prices have not varied much. Ohie Life and Trust Company advanced 1 per cent; Cumberland Coal &; New York Central Railroad &; Michigan Central Railroad &; Cleveland and Toleds &; Harlem &. Panama Railroad declined & per cent; Reading Railroad &. There were small sales of Stonington at 54% a 55 per cent, which is an improvement en previous sales. Cumberland was the most bueyant stock on the list te day. Illinois Central Bends continue in demand at the advance.

At the second board there was not much activity in the market, and no change of consequence in prices. Eric was an eighth better; New York Central, & do.

drafts covered and protected by the assignment.

The following letter from Lucas, Turner & Co., of San Francisco, appears in the San Francisco Chronicle, relative to a false report which had obtained credence, of the failure of their house in New York:—

OHIGIN OF THE REPORT THAT A NOTE OF LUCAS, TURNER & CO., RAD BEEN PROTESTED IN NEW YORK.

BANKING HOUSE OF LUCAS, TURNER & CO., SAN FRANCISCO, May 2, 1855.

We have at last found out the origin of the rumor which was afloat last night, that one of our bills had come back protested.

January 31st last, we sold Burgoyne & Co. a bill of exchange on Lucas & Simmonds, of St. Louis, payable at the Metropolitan Bank on the 19th of this month. This draft went into the hands of Page, Bacon & Co., who seat it to St. Louis, where it was duly accepted. Subsquent to the remutance of the draft, Mr. Burgoyne obtained from Page, Bacon & Co., here, an order on Duncan, Sherman & Co., for the surrender to Burgoyne & Co., or order, of the above named draft, or the proceeds thereof. We believe Mr. Burgoyne hypothecated this order with Adams & Co., of this city, who, of course, remitted it to New York, where, it appears, Duncan, Sherman & Co. refused to surrender the draft or its value.

It is this order which has been protested, not the draft, which makes all the difference in the world. Our draft is not due until the 19th of this month, and of course could not be protested; but the order for the draft was such an instrument as would necessarily be protested to hold the endorser.

It is a simple contest between Page, Bacon & Co., and Adams & Co., for the proceeds of said draft.

Any person curious in such matters can see the notice in the hands of Mr. Cohen, assignee of Adams & Co. No notice was sent us, as we are in no way concerned.

LUCAS, TURNER & CO.

The Philadelphia Ledger of the 2d inst, says:—
We are glad to learn that the State authorities have repudiated the discredited and fitthy 'Relief' notes—more properly termed distress notes—and we hope soon to bear of their being banahed from circulation—driven home to the banks issuing them. Our City Treasurer, we are informed, says he has instructions from Harrisburg not to receive the 'Relief' notes in payment of State taxes. If this is to be the rale, our citizens ought to know it, and govern themselves accordingly. No person should touch one of them. And yet what a humiliating spectacle for the commonwealth? Refusing the notes of her own endorsement, and supposed to be bacted by all her great resources.

The falling off in duties collected on customs is steadi ly reducing the surplus revenue, and the probability is that before the expiration of the present year the de-posits will be under twelve millions of dollars. The redemption of the public debt proceeds slowly. The mo-ney market is too easy to induce holders of government stock to change their investments. The ninth annual report of the Boston, Concord and Montreal Railroad Company, presented at the stock-holders' meeting at Gilford, N. H., on Monday, states the whole amount charged to construction at $2,771 310 83. The income for the year ending March 31 was $295,282 31; expenses during same time, $154,331 17—leaving net earnings $140,951 14, which has been appropriated to interest on bonded and floating debt, and dividends on the preferred stock, leaving a surplus of $10,851 66, from which a dividend of $1 per share, or little more than $5,000, has been declared on the new stock. The fleating debt April 1 was $301,879 10, and has been reduced $145,307 80 during the year. Of this about one sold, and of the balance, say $150,000, more than one half is represented by the wood lands and personal property of the company, which is entirely unencumbered, and the means for meeting the residue are the unsold preferred stock and the difference to be paid on ecuversion of the old stock into new. The repairs of the road have been much larger than usual, and include many items not of the ordinary character, the whole amount being $20,000 greater than the previous year, and the road and machinery are in a more complete and effective condition than twelve months ago.

At a meeting of the bondholders of the Vermont and Massochusetts Refired Company held at Boston on the 30th inst., the president made a proposition to the effect that the bendholders exchange the bends new in their pessession for bends which shall be made payable on the first day of July, 1875, secured by mortgage, and the trustees six per cent interest—a sinking fand of ten thousand dollars per year, placed in the hands of the trustees, being established as further security for the payment of the bende—this arrangement not to be binding unless authority be obtained from the Legislature, and the mortgage be executed before the first day of July, 1866, and accepted by the holders of three-fourths of the amount of the bonds. The president expressed his confident conviction that the read could easily pay the interest on the new bonds, and set aside the $10,000 per year. The vote taken on the proposition was not a full one, but the majority were in its fa-

The Boston Traveller, of the 20th ult., says:—
Stocks were variable to-day, and slightly unsettled.
Boston and Mains improved 34, with an active request at 106½. Providence, 66½ bid, 67 saked. Boston and Worcester in demand at 93½. Concord sold at 43½, and more offered at same rate. Eastern, on sales of tan shares, jumped up 2 per cent. Fitchburg steady at 80.
Northern advaced 3½, with a better command for the stock than for several weeks. Ogdensburg was ½ lewer, and heavy. Vermont and Massachusetts declined to 12½, with more sellers than buyers. Vermont and Camada advanced 3 per cent since last sale. In the copper shares there was less animation on the part of buyers. Forest, 4 bid, 4½ saked—assachusent of 32 per share paid; Pittaburg, 147 a 180; Algoma, ½ bid; Fatton, 1½ saked; Monesota, 196 bid; Copper Falls, 35 a 35½.

On the lat of June the floating debt of the Ogdensburg Railread, amounting te $350,606, will fail due, it having been extended for one year, and secured by $300,000 second mortgage bonds and a mortgage of $100,000 on ooo second mortgage bonds and a mortgage of $100,000 on the lake propellers, making $500,000 in all, which the corporation offers to the creditors, if they will receive it in full payment. The present board of trustees are J. S. Eldridge, John Smith, and Wm. R. Lee, who has just been appointed to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of J. C. Howe.

N IGHT BLINDNESS —CITY AND COUNTY OF NEW York, as:—Thomas Tomlinson, a resident of Digby, Nova Scotia, and late a seaman of the schooner Granger. Captain John Fowler, of that port, being sworn, eath that while at sea, on the 4th of May, A. D. 1855, he was suddenly seized with a total loss of vision, which he has since anderstood to be known as "night blindness." and deponent further saith that such disease continued to afflict him until he reached New York, when he was induced to visit Dr. Wheeler, as oculist, of great celebrity, at 456 Breadway, corner of Broome street, who has entirely cured deponent; and to whose skill, kindness and humanity deponent feels deeply grateful.

Sworn before me this 50th day of May, 1855, Jas. C. Hag.—

OCULIST.—NIGHT BLINDNESS.—A SINGULAR and mysterious disease—thms known to medical men, is, we understand, commonly incidental to Mariners and others, who, in the language of Scripture, "go down to the sea in ships." It will be seen from an affidavit which we pulled in another column, that Dr. Wheeley, ceutiet, of 558 Broadway, has again been successful in affortually extent a case of that kind.
